Scott D. Miller, Ph.D. is returning to speak again this year! His presentation was so well received at the 2010 conference that we have asked him to speak again this year on “Achieving Clinical Excellence”. If you were present last year, you experience a fascinating talk by Scott. If you did not, you will not want to miss this year’s event.

Dr. Miller is a co-founder of the Center for Clinical Excellence, an international consortium of clinicians, researchers, and educators dedicated to promoting excellence in behavior health. He conducts workshops worldwide, helping hundreds of agencies and organizations, both public and private, to achieve superior results. He is one of a handful of “invited faculty” whose work, thinking, and research is featured at the prestigious “Evolution of Psychotherapy Conference.” His humorous and engaging presentation style and command of the research literature consistently inspires practitioners, administrators, and policy makers to make effective changes in service delivery.
